Cell Phone Information

- Most of our students choose to own a cell phone plan in Taiwan. Most of the plans are required to sign an at least 2-year contract for the lowest service charge or the highest discount rate on purchasing a new cell phone. A monthly service fee will be charged accordingly. An extremely high early termination fee may occur if you ended your contract earlier. You can also choose a “pre-paid” plan which you buy minutes in advance.
- In Taiwan, almost any kind of cell phones are sim-card changeable. That is, you don't have to buy a new cell phone when you decided to switch to a new cell phone carrier. The new cell phone carrier will provide a new sim card to you.
- ★ Local providers include Taiwan Mobile, Far eastone, Chunghwa, and so on. Also refer to NTPU Handbook for International Degree Student 2022/2023 Page 50-51 for more details.

NHI Card Functions

1. Prescription and examination Records

The NHI card stores records of medication usage and past examinations for doctors to use as a reference when they treat a patient so that they don't duplicate prescriptions or examinations. This helps safeguard patient safety, improve health care quality and reduce medical waste.

2. Treatment Records

The NHI card serves as the authoritative record of treatment under the National Health Insurance program, recording all doctor visits. When a patient receives health care, an allotted visit is normally deducted from the card, but if the attending physician enters on the card "clinic referral," "post surgery outpatient follow-up visit," or "hospitalization clinic follow-up visit," the subsequent visit is not deducted from the card total.

3. Catastrophic Illness Record

Records of a patient's catastrophic illness are directly entered into the NHI card, enabling patients with such illnesses who present their NHI card when getting care for the designated disease to be treated without having to pay a copayment.

Individuals covered by the National Health Insurance Program who have applied for and received catastrophic illness certification can ask clinics or hospitals to update their NHI cards if the cards do not include the catastrophic illness information. Cards can also be updated to include the catastrophic illness designation at any location where a card reader is available, such as any National Health Insurance Administration regional divisions or village, town, city or area administrative office. Remember to Bring Your National Health Insurance Card When Visiting a Doctor

Whether you are visiting a doctor, picking up your prescription, or undergoing a medical examination, you must bring your National Health Insurance card to any contracted health care institution (identified by the National Health Insurance logo in their doorways) in order to be treated under the health insurance program. You will be required, however, to pay a registration fee and copayment.

If you don't have your National Health Insurance card with you when visiting the doctor, you must first pay all medical expenses out of your own pocket. But you can have the expenses, minus the required copayment, refunded if you bring your National Health Insurance card and receipt to the health care institution where you were treated within 10 days.
